"LET'S READ!" GRADUATES DEMONSTRATE RESULTS

SAYL's "Let's Read!" Program has completed another successful fall semester. Since conducting mid-year reassessments, we are proud to report that 36 students who began the school year reading below grade level have now graduated out of the program. This means that they are reading at, and some even above, their appropriate reading grade levels. Moreover, after only one semester of the "Let's Read" Program, these students showed an average improvement of one full Reading Grade Level. We heartily congratulate these students and their tutors for a job well done!

About the "Let's Read!" Program

"Let's Read!" is a literacy based curriculum focused on improving the reading and comprehension skills of elementary-school children who are at-risk of school failure due to poor reading skills.
